

CHAPTER 39 ACTIVITY
Basic Concepts

Directions: Circle T for True or F for False next to each statement below. If the statement is false, rewrite the sentence on a separate sheet of paper to make it true.

1. T F Schools, prisons, and military bases are public forums for the expression of free speech.
2. T F Free speech has no place in prisons or military bases.
3. T F Limitation of free speech in prison and military bases may be imposed if the expression interferes with the purpose of the facility.
4. T F Wearing an armband to protest the war is symbolic speech.
5. T F Wearing an armband to protest the war in schools could not legally be banned.
6. T F A school-sponsored newspaper is an open forum.
7. T F School administrators may censor school-sponsored publications when the expression is inconsistent with the school's basic mission and when the students, parents, and other community members might reasonably believe the school endorsed that expression.
8. T F Compared to prisons and military bases, schools are relatively open institutions.
9. T F Inmates in general population have a right of access to publications so long as the publications do not conflict with prison's purposes of safety, security, and the need to rehabilitate prisoners.
10. T F A military base may not prohibit all political speeches and the distribution of campaign literature.
